

1 Beaver trap, over time beavers have become smaller, this trap would have served well with one of the large ones of the past.

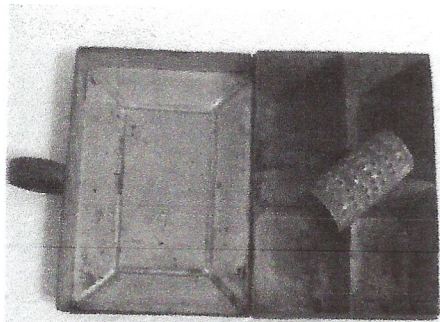

2 Laundry tongs were often used to protect the hands from the harsh chemicals and scalding water used in doing the laundry.

3 Pillow fluff-er beat the pillow back to a fluffy state for a clean comfortable sleep.

4 Jelly/soup strainer handy for making a smooth non lumpy sauce or jelly.

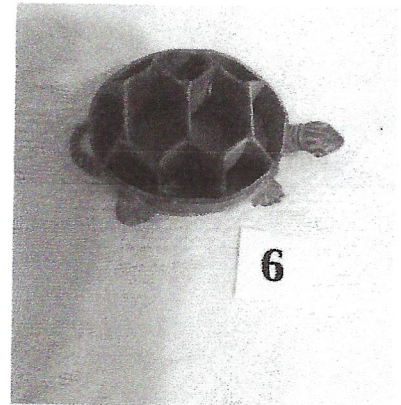

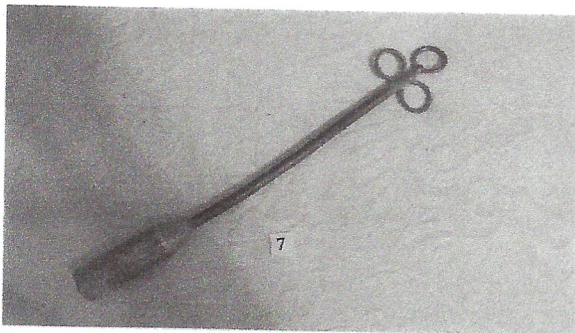

5

5 Spice box and grater this handy tin box helps keep spices fresh and has a handy grater at the ready to add fresh herbs and spices to any scrumptious meal.

6 Flower frog shaped as a turtle when used in a see through glass vase added a touch of elegance and a great talking point to the flower arrangement.

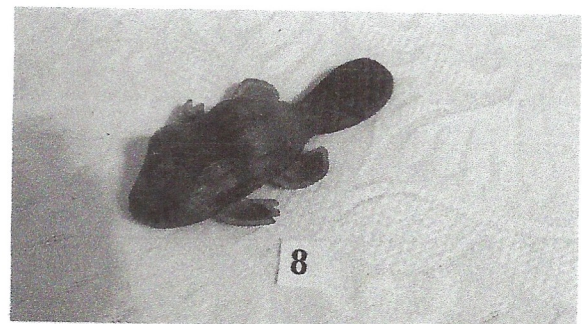

6

7

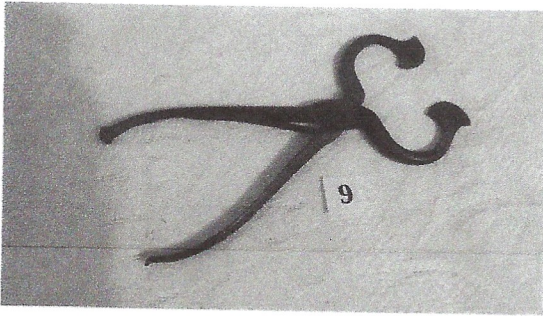

7 Medication syringe used to easily insert pills in a cows throat.

8 Beaver/pike spearing decoy was moved in the water to lure the pike to a hole cut in the ice while standing at the ready with the tips of the spear ready to impale the pike as it passes.

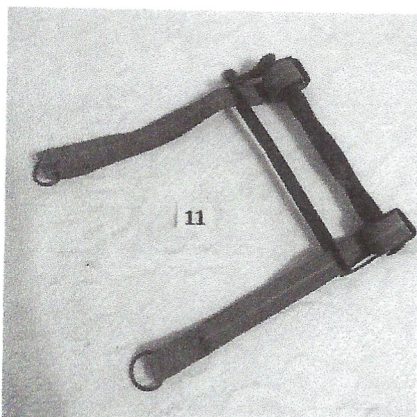

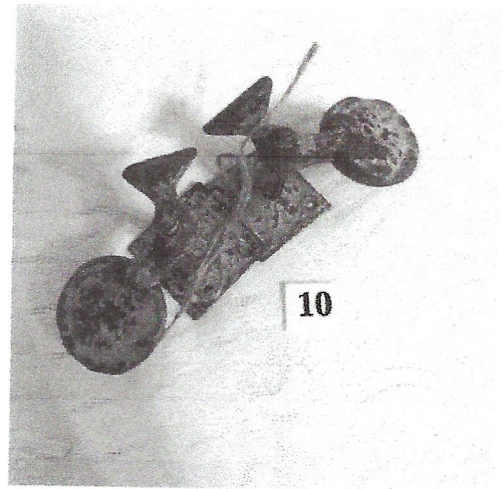

8

9 Sugar Nippers when sugar was sold as a cone or a lump it was easy to brake off a usable piece of sugar.

10 Shutter dogs outside most homes shutters were either decorations or practical to shelter the home from storms the dogs served to lock the shutters either open or closed depending on the weather.

11 Book carrier this was most likely a teachers stile as kids were bright and fancy prints on the ribbons. To use it simply place the carrier on a table or desk and place your books on the ribbons hook the ribbons back to the other side and crank the handle to secure the books and use the handle to carry without the book coming loose.

12 Cuff press for pleating the fancy cuff on men's shirts. Place the press on the stove to heat and put the cuff on the iron and role, the pleat will be crisp and stylish.

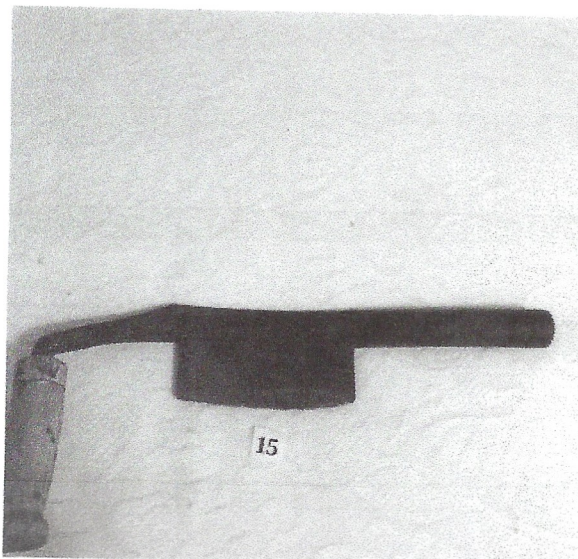

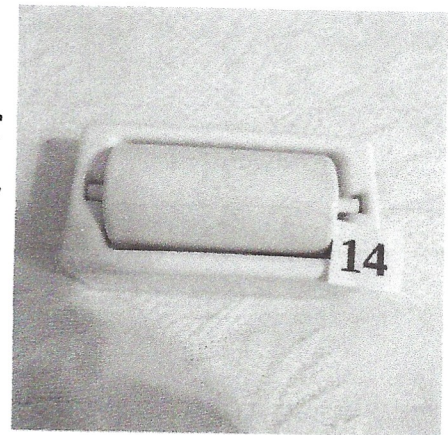

13 Bridle Medallion often just as ornamental but frequently thought as good luck when out riding one might have a favorite medallion.

14 Large vintage Sengbuseh ideal moistener for envelopes or to moisten postage stamps. It sure beat cutting your tongue on the sharp edge of an envelope or the yucky taste of postage stamps.

15 Hand Forged Draw Shave for barrels frequently used on a shave horse to hold the wood so both hands were free to pull the shave over the wood giving the slats just the right shape for the perfect barrel.